We Rate Dogs data – Act Report

We are analyzing We Rate Dogs data collected from its twitter account which rate people dogs in funny way. WeRateDogs has over 4 million followers.
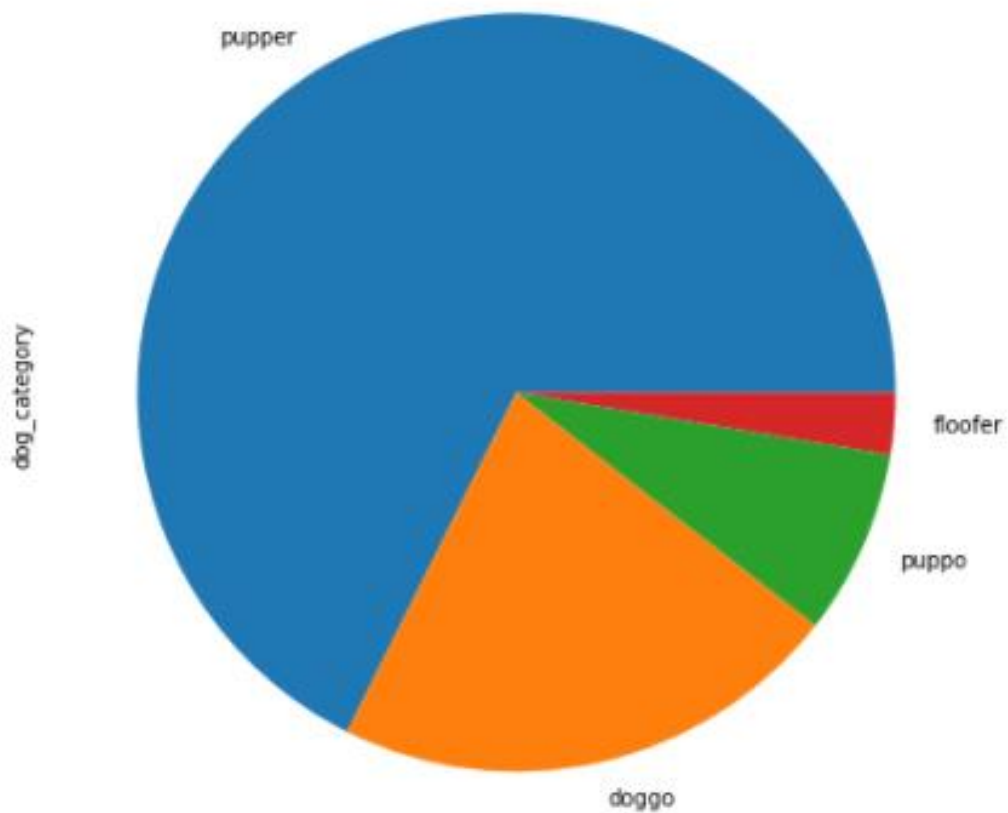

The questions we are going to answer are:

What's the most common Dog category?

What's the most common Dog kind?

What's the most common source for posting the tweets we used?

Is there a correlation between WeRateDogs tweet Retweets and Favourits?

First figure shows the distribution of Pupper, Doggo, Puppo and floofer between all tweets

Distribution figure shows that Pupper is the most common dog category between all tweets followed by doggo, Puppo and the least tweeted is floofer.

Second figure shows the disribution of dog kind between all tweets

Golden retriever is the most common dog between all the dogs in our dataset followed by Labrador retriever then Pembroke

While EntleBucher, Japanese spaniel, silky terrier, clumber, Bouvier des Flandres, standard schnauzer, Scotch terrier and Irish wolfhound are the least common dogs.

Figure 3 shows the distribution of tweets source

The source of over 90% of tweets posted @ WeRateDogs account were by Iphone
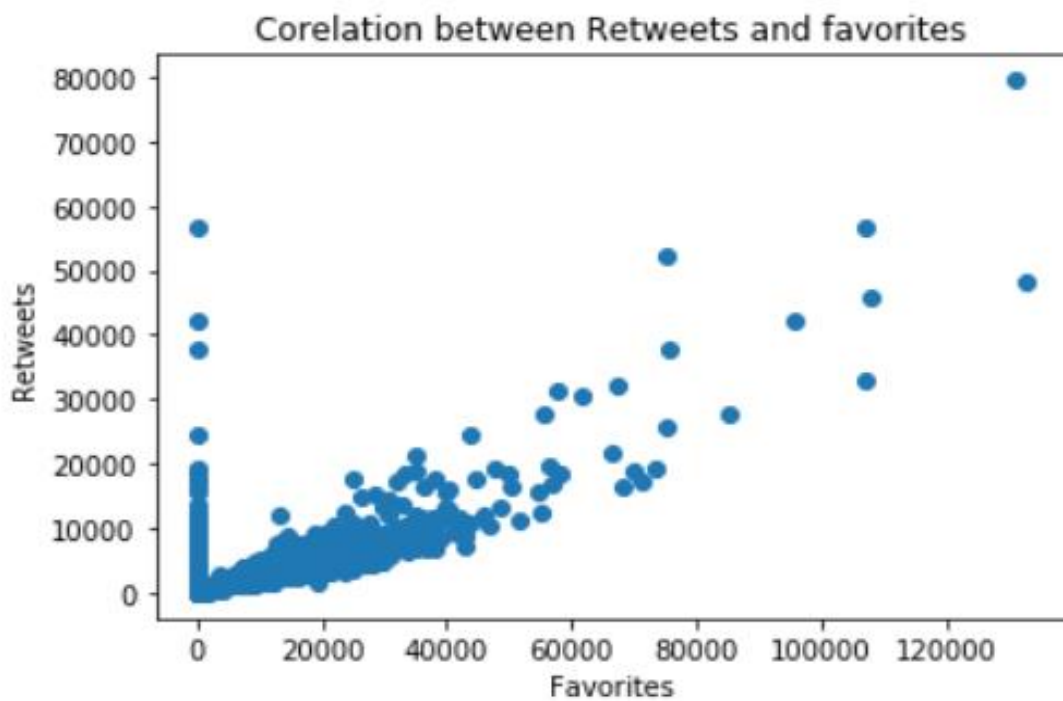

Figure 4 shows the Correlation between Retweets and Favourits

There is a positive correlation between tweets favorites and retweets. Almost the most liked is the most retweeted dogs

Conclusion

If you are planning to get a dog we would advise you to consider Pupper Golden retriever as a great choice which is the most liked, retweeted and spread one between all the dogs we have seen.